

WOMAN HELD WITHOUT BAIL

The preliminary hearing of Mrs. Mary E. Brooks was concluded Wednesday at noon and she was held without bail to await the action of the grand jury in April.

U. S. Commissioner Winn, in rendering his decision, admitted the incriminating evidence against the woman was very meager, not such as would convict her on trial before a jury; but considering the atrociousness of the crime and the fact that ample incriminating evidence is not required to hold an accused person over to the grand jury, he felt it his imperative duty to take such action in this case.

Defendant's attorneys will probably apply for a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Dickerson at Chickasha.

The fourth witness called Tuesday afternoon was W. P. Chism, of Francis, who testified that he viewed the body of deceased, Dr. Davenport, among the first; that he found numerous tracks nearby, among them those of two men leading south through the field across a branch; that Monday morning he followed the trail the bloodhounds had taken and observed tracks of a man and woman coming, and the woman's alone returning to town, and the doctor's shoe fit the man's track.

W. R. Walker, deputized to help investigate the tragedy, said he saw numerous tracks; heard defendant partially confess to intimate relations with deceased.

W. O. Fox, 60 years of age, of Oakman: Deceased 3 weeks ago had told him of fearing trouble with a woman who had lived in Francis but had moved to Ada—so the doctor stated.

Deputy U. S. Marshal R. M. Cummings: Exhibited pistol given him by defendant; believed it had been shot within 25 hours previous; fatal bullet put in evidence.

Wiley Smith: Had occasionally driven to Francis with deceased and held the team while deceased visited Mrs. Brooks.

Dr. King, of Ada: Examined body; extracted bullet which entered two inches behind ear; deceased wore overcoat and gloves buttoned; powder-burned hair showed shot was fired at close range; thought killing must have been about 12 or 1 o'clock.

Frank Fox, Oakman: Said deceased had bought supplies from him, saying they were for defendant; deceased told of frequent quarrels with defendant.

The defense put on only two witnesses: Burrell Bralley and Walter Owens.

Bralley: Said deceased had spoken of enemies; had told of being pursued by a man in the dark at Francis two weeks ago.

Owens: Deceased, two or three weeks ago, in witness' store at Ada, was looking at pistols and spoke of fellows being after him; wanted a short derringer pistol.

For County Commissioner.

That Pontotoc county will need some of its best men on the board of county commissioners no thoughtful citizen will deny.

Particularly during the first two years will sound, sagacious men be wanted to manage the county's affairs. For that vitally important office the News is authorized to announce John B. Stewart.

A few months ago Mr. Stewart moved to Ada from his place four miles west where he resided twelve years.

While he was a mere boy his parents, thirty-two years ago, moved to the Territory. Though born in Louisiana he is a citizen by blood, being one-eighth Choctaw. Mr. Stewart has grown up in close touch with the Indian country, conversant with its affairs, and in full sympathy with its well being. He belongs to the progressive type of citizen, standing for the progress that is safe and sane and sound.

In his earlier days Mr. Stewart lived the cowboy life; for twenty years he has engaged in farming and stock raising. Knowing nearly everybody in this country, knowing what the country needs, thoroughly imbued with the principles of the democratic party, Mr. Stewart should prove a favorite in the race for the democratic nomination in the commissioner's district which will include Ada.

Annette, the Castilian dancing girl, in Gordon & Bennett's production of "A Royal Slave," which comes to the Ada opera house March 23, wears a different costume in each act and each is a resplendent mass of spangles in harmonious color and keeping with the body of the gown. The effect on the brilliantly lighted stage is truly magnificent. 308-5t

To The Public.

Having recently purchased the O. K. Meat Market and having now just gained the exclusive control of the slaughter house and pens near O. C. Railroad, we desire to say that we are vigorously cleaning the houses and will soon have the same in first class sanitary condition. None but animals in perfect health and fit condition will ever be handled or slaughtered by us.

If we succeed in securing control of the pasture it will be free of access to vehicles passing to or from Railroad. We invite rigid inspection and solicit your trade. Very Respectfully, 309-3t

GOTCHER & MARLIN.

RODDIE'S PRINCIPLES.

Candidate for State Senate Tells the People What he Stands For.

To the Voters of the Twenty-third Senatorial District:

First of all, I stand for those principles of democracy that were conceived by Jefferson, promulgated by Jackson, and interpreted by the great commoner William Jennings Bryan as the surest means of returning the government of this nation back into the hands of the people.

Secondly, I heartily endorse every paragraph and every line of the new state constitution as wrought out by the late convention. I endorse it because I regard it as an embodiment of fundamental law without a parallel in the history of governments. It recognizes local self government and secures to the people the right of the people to rule.

Furthermore, I stand for the selection of Hon. Henry M. Furman as one of the candidates for United States senate in the coming primary election; and shall use every effort in my power to further his interests and bring about his election.

FREE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Inseparable to the high standard of family life and interwoven with it is the free public school system of the state. Today the greatest menace to public school education is the school-book trust. Therefore if elected I shall introduce a bill to establish a state printing plant and provide for a commission to compile a uniform system of text books to be used in the public schools of the state at a price not exceeding six percent above actual cost of production.

GOOD ROADS.

Next in importance to that of the education of the children of the state, and which so immediately affects the agricultural department of wealth production, is the local transportation—GOOD ROADS. I shall propose a law for the construction of roads of the first, second and third grades, according to importance and use by direct taxation, the use of county convict labor in road building, and, if necessary, utilize the short term labor of the state convicts.

TAXATION.

I shall introduce a bill providing for the taxation of the gross receipts of all public service corporations, coal mining and oil companies not operated by the state, from which sources the state will be enabled to raise a vast amount of revenue.

INSURANCE.

The great central southwest has been a rich field for insurance companies of all classes. Oklahoma has received her share of the impositions practiced by the wild cat companies that are abroad in the land of both life and fire insurance. It is therefore necessary that the state be protected by some strong legislation along this line. I shall propose a bill and labor assiduously for its passage that will secure to every policy holder a valued policy of protection for every dollar of premium paid.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS.

I shall follow the instructions of the constitutional convention by laboring for a blanket primary election law at which all parties may vote on the same day to select candidates for all offices from United States senator down. This law must be written that every man will get his vote counted as cast and in this way bring the elections close to the people.

The above are some of the leading subjects that stand out most prominently for the action of the first legislature of our new state. If I am the choice of the people at the coming primary for the standard bearer of democracy in the state's senatorial campaign and elected at the general election it will be my only business to serve the people by putting good will into every effort. In framing a code of laws for the government of the new state based on the provisions of our great constitution, wisdom, prudence, and justice should actuate and be the controlling passion of every legislator.

To set forth a complete list of measures that I hold as most sacred to the interests of this great commonwealth would extend this paper beyond reasonable limit. But it will be my pleasure, as far as my limited means will allow, to meet the electors of this senatorial district personally, and to address them from the stump at as many places in the district as is possible.

As to my integrity and qualifications the people are capable of judging them, knowing that good government depends

WEST SIDE REPUBLICANS WILL FIGHT STATEHOOD

Oklahoma City, Ok., March 20.—The Republican central committee meeting held here yesterday developed an overwhelming individual sentiment in favor of opposing adoption by the people of the proposed Oklahoma constitution without any reservation whatever. If this sentiment is not overcome by party leaders the ensuing campaign promises to be the most hotly contested ever witnessed in the Southwest. Not a party man from old Oklahoma publicly appeared sponsor for the scheme to adopt the document for the good of statehood under the present conditions.

The initiative and referendum declared by Judge T. N. Robnett of Ardmore to be contrary to a Republican form of government and the legislative apportionment characterized by Henry E. Asp, a constitutional convention delegate from Guthrie, as the acme of political grand larceny were the two chief points for assault. It remained, however, for Indian Territory, itself, badly divided in sentiment, to break the monotony and declare that the constitution good or bad should be adopted without endorsement that the people might have statehood, a boon so devoutly wished for by the territory on the east. They presented Chairman Hamon's plan of pointing out the objectionable features and pledging the first legislature, which they hoped to elect by an appeal to general party fairness, for a correction as rapidly as possible.

This idea received little encouragement, but instead there was a rapid revival of the Oklahoma's dream of an enabling act for themselves with the privilege of taking Indian Territory in piecemeal, as it became fit for state government. The party's position will not be fully determined until the state convention is held following adjournment of the constitutional convention.

A. J. Seay of Kingfisher, former governor of Oklahoma Territory and always an ardent advocate of separate statehood, talked for a strict party denunciation of the document and a campaign that would encompass its defeat at the polls. Added to this feeling was that of wild resentment to the original attachment of Indian Territory to Oklahoma and the loss of the latter in the trade. If the constitution was adopted he saw a loss of the Republican party's birthright and its inability to get representatives in office.

Judge J. T. Dickinson of the federal court in the Chickasha district came forward with a strong defense for the Indian Territory people who had suffered, Oklahoma knew not how much, for the want of home government, and pleaded that the opportunity be not now denied them.

"It will take the combined effort of both parties to pull it through," he continued. If you could see our children without schools, rivers without bridges; no way to care for the afflicted or the insane, you would swallow anything to get statehood. We taught the Democrats a lesson in gerrymandering ourselves not long ago (referring to the apportionment for convention delegates) and the result should not be held as a barrier to relieving our conditions. You joined hands with us and you must go down with us. Let us meet the Democracy in the open field of argument and rest the case with the people."

Road Wanted.

The Ada News—Will you please publish this:

The wagon road running from Conway to Ada has been fenced up until travel has abandoned the road. They claim they cannot possibly haul 500 pounds over the route they are compelled to go. Stonewall has a good road and is getting the grapes.

[The above communication is from a leading citizen of the Conway community.]

BOY MANGLED BY FRISCO FREIGHT TRAIN

Carl Robb, a lad of fourteen, fell under the wheels of a passing freight train Tuesday night about 8 o'clock and was horribly mangled.

While standing by the track near the Frisco crossing on Townsend Avenue he was jostled by a playmate and thrown under the moving wheels, which ground off the flesh from his left thigh, crushing the limb in two above the ankle. Such was the laceration that it was necessary to amputate midway the thigh. Also the left forearm was badly crushed, but the surgeons are making effort to save that limb. A number of abrasions were found on the head, but none of a serious character.

The little fellow never lost consciousness and altogether bore the ordeal right bravely. Help soon came and he was carried upon a litter to the offices of Broull and Faust.

The injured boy is the son of D. R. Robb, a teamster in the city.

Carl is the boy of pleasing face who formerly shined shoes at Chapman's Shoe Store. His parents reside in North Ada.

From best information he must have made an effort to swing on to the caboose, which has a side entrance, and his left foot missing the step, he was dragged under the rear trucks. When first found his head lay close to the rail.

The boy stood the operation splendidly, was soon after taken home, but at last reports was getting on quite well considering the frightful injury he suffered.

SWELTERING WEATHER IN ADA ONCE MORE

That the good old summer time has arrived in Ada once more is evidenced in several ways.

Governor Byrd is out with his Panama hat. That is not conclusive, of course, but lots of men are to be seen in their shirt sleeves, and some pause on the curb and with the index finger rake the perspiration from the brow. Even there are those horrible dicters, who dare to spring the hackneyed query: "Is it hot enough for you?"

Also the white waist is uniformly in evidence, and the dogs, panting with protruding tongue seek the shade.

As incidents of the warm day, a fat drummer was observed emerging from the telephone office stairway fan-himself with his hat. "Blazes," he puffed, "I've been in that oven of a booth a whole hour trying to talk to Denison."

Ice from the Ada factory, consigned to Francis, to the amount of 1,200 pounds, lay on the trucks waiting for the northbound Frisco and leaked itself away. The train was terribly tardy. When it did arrive the expressman pitched the cakes, which had been 200 pounds, into the car without any hooks. What the Francis man said when he received his little nuggets of ice and the bill for $3 express charges is left to the reader's surmise.

The thermometer stood at 87 in the Horse Knocked Over Baby.

Down at the cotton oil mill Wednesday morning Dan Smith's baby had been left in its carriage on the outside, a loose horse came by and turned the buggy over throwing the child out on a pile of cotton seed. The little one's screams caused considerable alarm at first. A physician was hurriedly summoned, but the baby was found not hurt at all seriously.

RODDIE'S PRINCIPLES.

upon the selection of good and true men to represent them. With that safety-valve of democratic legislation—the initiative and referendum—the people can trust the future to give us a good government of the people and by the people, without the intervention of that political machine which so often defeats their will under the very forms devised to carry that will into effect.

Above all, let us have such a code of laws that will build up a virtuous citizenship. Let us build school houses and foster religion and education as the great pillars of the state. Oklahoma is a goodly land of beautiful mountains and fertile valleys. Here the steps of multitudes are turning as to a "land that flows with milk and honey."

Let such a moral sentiment pervade the character of all legislation that we shall be famed afar for the justice of our laws, no less than for the uprightness and intelligence of our people.

Soon the center of population will be this side of the Mississippi river, the millions that are coming here, now that statehood has come and restrictions will soon be removed, that by a system of judicious legislation, giving equal rights to all and special privileges to none, we can make the great state of Oklahoma that center.

Respectfully,

REUBEN M. RODDIE.

HE WORKED HIS "SCIENCE."

New Method Employed by Satisfied and Comfortable Husband.

It is the wife who is the head of the house, and it was she who decided upon the flat—and repented immediately afterward. The building was a new one, scarcely finished, and after the parlor ceiling had fallen twice and the repair man had botched a dozen small jobs she decided to move again.

In this she met the lively opposition of the family. They were all content with their rooms and the children begged for a delay. The husband took the matter with calmness and did not enter into the argument after expressing his entire contentment with the present conditions.

The wife worried and went flat hunting, but at last she announced that she had come to the conclusion that they would remain. The husband looked up placidly from his coffee cup. "I knew that several weeks ago," he announced.

"But I only decided this morning," she retorted in surprise.

He smiled pityingly. "Down at the church," he explained, "we have been giving you absent treatment for five weeks. After this you need not say that there is nothing in science."

Then he dodged the sugar bowl.

Much Used Wedding Present.

A Providence girl, who has been married about six months, had wedding cards a short time ago from an old school friend who had given her a wedding present, which, of course, demanded one in return. Among her wedding presents the Providence girl had duplicates in the shape of two silver card trays, and in a spirit of economy she decided to give one of these to her friend. It was marked with her own initials, but it would be only a matter of a few minutes to have them removed and the proper monogram cut.

She took it to the jeweler and explained what was to be done. He picked up the tray, looked at it closely and smiled.

"Madame," said he, "it will be impossible. I have already changed the initials on this same tray five times, and it has worn so thin that I cannot do it again without cutting through the bottom."

Had Good Eyesight.

A young man from the rural districts went to Boston, and while there visited the Harvard astronomical observatory and was allowed to look through a great telescope at the stars.

"What is that star?" he inquired, pointing to a very bright one.

"Oh, that's Aldebaran," replied the attendant.

"Is it very far off?" asked the youth.

"About 10,000,000 miles."

"Then all I can say," said the visitor, "is that you must have wonderfully good eyes to make out that star's name, at that distance, even with that big telescope. It's really most marvelous."

The Sneerer and His Sneer.

The sneer is an arrested bite. It is a mark of the savage. The man who sneers is that much less of a gentleman. The sneerer would bite if he was not afraid to do so. He is a coward. The sneerer is a savage whether he sneers in print or not. If he writes down his sneers he has not removed himself from the ranks of savagery. He yet remains one of the worst savages, however his English be polished and his style be sparkling. The sneer does turn into a bite when even the savage who indulges in it acquires courage. While he is a coward it remains an arrested bite.—Columbia Herald.

MADE AN AMAZING MIXUP.

Queer Assortment of Married Couples in Hungary.

After being employed for 40 years as valet to the male companion of his own wife, a man named Ruzicka, once wealthy, but now penniless and imbecile, has been received into the municipal workhouse of the town of Agram, in Hungary. Ruzicka, left an orphan with a good deal of property, married in 1863 Camilla Ostvic, a professional singer. Returning from the church, the bride introduced her husband to Dr. Theodor Sparcek, a lawyer. Sparcek brushed the bridegroom aside and walked on ahead, enjoying a tete-a-tete with the bride. In a little while he turned to the bridegroom and informed him that he (Dr. Sparcek) and the bride were going on a honeymoon trip. The rightful husband might come, too, if he acted as valet. The husband's poor wits seem to have been scattered forever by the announcement. He was helpless, and accompanied his wife on her elopement. In this manner all three lived uneventfully until 1885, when the woman died. Dr. Sparcek then lost no time in finding a new "wife," but seemed disinclined to marry himself. Under threats of dismissal from his valetship, the imbecile was obliged to go through the marriage ceremony for the second time. Another 21 years passed quietly, when suspicion was aroused by Sparcek selling Ruzicka's properties. The guilty lawyer then fled with the second Mme. Ruzicka, leaving his unfortunate "valet" absolutely penniless.

WINDOWS BEFORE THE DOOR.

Maid's Queer Idea of Providing Ingress for Firemen.

The things people do when they have a fire in the house would make a book full of exceedingly funny reading. The other day there was a fire out on Westminster place, and the maid, as is usual with maids, got very much excited, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. After the fire was extinguished she was relating incidents and declared that her first thought was to open all the windows. "I went and threw up every window," she said. "But," remonstrated the lady of the house, "why did you do that?" "Why, to let the firemen in," said Mary. "But couldn't they get in through the door?" asked the lady. "Oh, they never does," said Mary with conviction; "they never waits to go to the door, but jumps in through the windows," and she smiled in thinking of her own presence of mind in remembering the vagaries of firemen.

Royalty Avoids Strong Drink.

Queen Victoria of Spain does not know the taste of alcohol. Her special "tipple" is made from oranges—the fresh fruit squeezed into a glass, which is filled with aerated water. Oranges are her favorite fruit. For years Princess Henry of Battenburg was a teetotaler, but of late she has suffered so much from rheumatism that she has been ordered to take a little whisky which she regards as a penance. Both Princess Christian's daughters, too, are teetotalers. All the children of the prince and princess of Wales are being brought up strict teetotalers, and they know nothing of alcohol. Princess Patricia of Connaught and her married sister also abjure wine. Another royal teetotaler is the duchess of Argyll, and the two daughters of the princess royal, their highnesses Alexandra and Maud, have never in their lives touched wine.

Marrying Under the Gallows.

In olden days, if a man or woman would consent to marry under the gallows, a person condemned to death might thereby be saved from execution. This happened, according to an old English ballad, to a Chester merchant who was thus saved by a loving maiden. In 1784 a criminal at New York escaped in the same way. (And all readers of Victor Hugo's "Notre Dame" will remember that powerful and dramatic scene where Esmeralda saves Pierre Gringoire.) But Pinkerton records a case where the criminal refused to retain life in this way. The story of this intrepid refusal has been told in lines which bear quotation.

Placing Stamps Wrongly.

The only way to stop people from plastering a stamp at any old place upon the envelope, except the right one, is to do as is done in England. There a letter which does not have the stamp in the right position is cast aside and handled only when all other mail is sorted and exchanged. This idea was advanced by a postal clerk. "We often lose considerable time because of these letters," continued the clerk, "for often we have to stop and turn over an envelope to find the stamp. The worst offenders in this respect are not foreigners, but those who have lived here for years."

Slight Misunderstanding.

Talking of German opera, the London Telegraph relates the story of a lady who brought her little son from the country the other day to witness the pantomime at Drury Lane, and took him by mistake to Covent Garden, where there was a matinee of "Lohengrin." "The opening of the first act," we are told, "was voted dull by both mother and son. But hope shone brightly when Lohengrin, drawn by the swan, appeared, and little Johnny in excitement called out, 'Oh, mother, look at Sinbad chasing the duck.' Small wonder that 'devout Wagnerites' who sat near, were 'upset'."

ADA, CHICKASAW NATION, INDIAN TERRITORY.

The biggest little city in the new commonwealth. The city that has never experienced either a boom or a blow. During its six years' life it has gradually grown into a commercial and railroad center of 4,600 population. The growth has been natural, solid, and enduring.

Society excellent, good schools and strong churches; unsurpassed agricultural section; six railroad outlets; five more such outlets under contract to build by September, 1907, bonuses are raised.

Veritably Ada is a city built upon a rock, and it will stand. It is in the logical belt of various mineral resources. Court town for 16th Recording District and unquestionably a county seat under statehood. Not a rival town within a radius of 40 miles. In a cotton country, but not DEPENDANT UPON cotton. Healthful climate; good water. Low taxes; real estate values reasonable, but rising. Ada is the place pre-eminent to live or invest in. [Better get in on the ground floor before the skyscrapers come.

INDIAN OF MEXICO DOCTILE
Essentially a Man of Peace, He Wants to Be Let Alone.

The simple minded, patient, docile Indian of Mexico is eminently peaceful. Bountiful nature and perpetual summer combine to palliate his improvidence. He can not see the necessity of laying up anything for a rainy day. It rains half the days in Mexico anyhow, but that only makes the mangoes grow larger and cheaper. If he has no tortillas today some of his neighbors have, and they will gladly share, for conditions may be reversed tomorrow, says Modern Mexico.

These Mexican Indians make the best and the poorest servants in the world. Their greatest charm from this standpoint is their perfect appreciation of their position. Always polite, never presuming, with hat in hand, it is always "your servant" and "with your permission." In the household they ask a half holiday once a fortnight with never a word of complaint when working hours last from daylight to midnight.

The Mexican Indian does not want to fight. All he asks is to be let alone. His politeness and affectionate nature are inborn. His love for children is particularly marked. It is a common sight to see a laborer in the street with but two pieces of white cotton clothing to his back or his name stop a woman with a baby in her arms and, holding the child's face between both his hands, deliver a resounding smack and chuck it under the chin. And in the same unconscious and entirely unaffected manner will a young man take his sombrero from his head and reverently kiss the hand of some ancient relative in a tattered dress when he encounters her in the crowded thoroughfare.

TWO OLD CRONIES CELEBRATE.

Have Their Own Way of Observing the Spirit of Christmas.

"For many years," said Mr. Frank L. Shafer, of Cincinnati, at the Arlington, "a couple of old cronies of my acquaintance have had a unique way of celebrating their friendship on Christmas day.

"Punctually at noon on December 24, they meet at a certain rendezvous and Bill opens the game by buying a quart of wine. When this is consumed Tom makes a purchase of a second quart, the drinking of which consumes much time, and the story of their years is told and retold.

"The finale, which is an act of great seriousness, consists of Bill going down into the depths of his trousers and pulling forth a $20 gold piece, which he presents to his chum as an evidence of sincere appreciation. Without the loss of a second Tom makes a dive for his pocket and extends to the other a double eagle, accompanying the gift with fervent expressions of everlasting friendship. This quaint custom appears to be original with the principals of my story, and without going into detailed argument it would seem their plan is not altogether without merit."—Washington Herald.

Her Reason.

"And does your mother kiss you every day when you come home from school?" "Yes, sir." "She must be very fond of you." "No; she wants to see if I've been smoking cigarettes."

OVERDRAFTS

It is becoming well known by business men that overdrafts, whether large or small, are not approved by the comptroller of the currency. The large central banks allow overdrafts only in a very small way, and this, it matters not how small, is not approved by the powers that be. This unbusinesslike habit of overdrafts grew out of advancing on moving products, such as cotton, grain and fat stock on the move. The overdraft system is wrong and the man whose account is always overdrawn is the man who spends more money than he makes and will finally have no bank account.

WOMAN HELD WITHOUT BAIL

The preliminary hearing of Mrs. Mary E. Brooks was concluded Wednesday at noon and she was held without bail to await the action of the grand jury in April.

U. S. Commissioner Winn in rendering his decision admitted the incriminating evidence against the woman was very meager not such as would convict her on trial before a jury, but considering the atrociousness of the crime and the fact that ample incriminating evidence is not required to hold an accused person over to the grand jury, he felt it his imperative duty to take such action in this case.

Defendant's attorneys will probably apply for a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Dickerson at Chickasha.

The fourth witness called Tuesday afternoon was W. P. Chism of Francis who testified that he viewed the body of deceased Dr. Davenport among the first that he and numerous truckmen found among them that of two men lying with their heads in the mud. He testified that Mr. Davenport had been killed by a bullet which had entered the back of his head and had come out the front of his head.

W. R. Walker testified that he found the body of the deceased Dr. Davenport in the mud and that he had seen the bullet which had entered the back of his head and had come out the front of his head.

W. O. Fox, a resident of Oklahoma, testified that he had seen the body of the deceased Dr. Davenport in the mud and that he had seen the bullet which had entered the back of his head and had come out the front of his head.

Deputy U. S. Marshal R. M. Cummings testified that he had seen the body of the deceased Dr. Davenport in the mud and that he had seen the bullet which had entered the back of his head and had come out the front of his head.

For County Commissioner

That Francis County will need some of the best men in the territory to run its affairs and that the citizens will have to choose wisely.

Particularly during the first two years will sound suggest is men be wanted to manage the county affairs. For this vitally important office the New is authorized to announce John B. Stewart.

A few months ago Mr. Stewart moved to Ada from a place four miles west where he resided twelve years.

Which was a time by his parents thirty two years ago moved to the Territory. The high born in Louisiana.

he is a citizen by blood, being one-eighth Choctaw. Mr. Stewart has grown up in close touch with the Indian country, conversant with its affairs, and in full sympathy with its well being. He belongs to the progressive type of citizen, standing for the progress that is safe and sane and sound.

In his earlier days Mr. Stewart lived the cowboy life for twenty years he has engaged in farming and stock raising. Knowing nearly everybody in this country knowing what the country needs, thoroughly imbued with the principles of the democratic party Mr. Stewart should prove a favorite in the race for the democratic nomination in the commissioner's district which will include Ada.

Annette the Castilian dancing girl in Gordon & Bennett's production of "A Boy and a Slave" which comes to the Ada opera house March 23 wears a different costume in each act and each is a splendid display of spangles in harmonious colors and keeping with the body of the gown. The effect on the brilliantly lighted stage is truly magnificent. 105 ft.

RODDIE'S PRINCIPLES.

Candidate for State Senate Tells the People What he Stands For.

To the Voters of the Twenty third Senatorial District.

First of all, I stand for those principles of democracy that were conceived by Jefferson, promulgated by Jackson, and interpreted by the great commoner William Jennings Bryan as the surest means of returning the government of this nation back into the hands of the people.

Secondly, I heartily endorse every paragraph and every line of the new state constitution as wrought out by the late convention. I endorse it because I regard it as an embodiment of fundamental law without a parallel in the history of governments. It recognizes local self government and secures to the people the right of the people to rule.

Furthermore I stand for the selection of Hon. Henry M. Furman as one of the candidates for United States senate in the coming primary election and shall use every effort in my power to further his interests and bring about his election.

FREE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Inseparable to the high standard of family life and intertwined with it is the free public school system of the state. Today the greatest menace to public school education is the school-book trust. Therefore if elected I shall introduce a bill to establish a state printing plant and provide for a commission to compile a uniform system of text books to be used in the public schools of the state at a price not exceeding six percent above actual cost of production.

GOOD ROADS

Next in importance to that of the education of the children of the state and which so immediately affects the agricultural department of wealth production is the local transportation—GOOD ROADS. I shall propose a law for the construction of roads of the first, second and third grades according to importance and use by direct taxation the use of county convict labor in road building and if necessary utilize the short term labor of the state convicts.

TAXATION

I shall introduce a bill providing for the taxation of the gross receipts of all public service corporations, coal mining and oil companies not operated by the state from which sources the state will be enabled to raise a vast amount of revenue.

INSURANCE

The great central southwest has been a rich field for insurance companies of all classes. Oklahoma has received her share of the impositions practiced by the wild cat companies that are abroad in the land of both life and fire insurance. It is therefore necessary that the state be protected by some strong legislation along this line. I shall propose a bill and labor assiduously for its passage that will secure to every policy holder a valued policy of protection for every dollar of premium paid.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS

I shall follow the instructions of the constitutional convention by laboring for a blanket primary election law at which all parties may vote on the same day to select candidates for all offices from United States senator down. This law must be written that every man will get his vote counted as cast and in this way bring the elections close to the people.

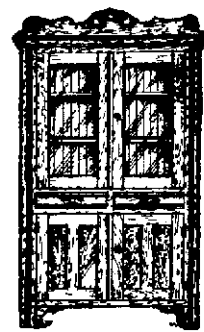

The above are some of the leading subjects that stand out most prominently for the action of the first legislature of our new state. If I am the choice of the people at the coming primary for the standard bearer of democracy in the state's senatorial campaign and elected at the general election it will be my only business to serve the people by putting good will into every effort in framing a code of laws for the government of the new state based on the provisions of our great constitution, wisdom, prudence and justice should actuate and be the controlling passion of every legislator.

To set forth a complete list of measures that I hold as most sacred to the interests of this great commonwealth would extend this paper beyond reasonable limit. But it will be my pleasure, as far as my limited means will allow, to meet the electors of this senatorial district personally, and to address them from the stump at as many places in the district as is possible.

As to my integrity and qualifications the people are capable of judging them, knowing that good government depends

WEST SIDE REPUBLICANS WILL FIGHT STATEHOOD

Oklahoma City, Ok., March 20.—The Republican central committee meeting held here yesterday developed an overwhelming individual sentiment in favor of opposing adoption by the people of the proposed Oklahoma constitution without any reservation whatever. If this sentiment is not overcome by party leaders the ensuing campaign promises to be the most hotly contested ever witnessed in the Southwest. Not a party man from old Oklahoma publicly appeared sponsor for the scheme to adopt the document for the good of statehood under the present conditions.

The initiative and referendum declared by Judge T. N. Robnett of Ardmore to be contrary to a Republican form of government and the legislative apportionment characterized by Henry E. Asp, a constitutional convention delegate from Guthrie, as the acme of political grand larceny were the two chief points for assault. It remained, however, for Indian Territory, itself, badly divided in sentiment, to break the monotony and declare that the constitution good or bad should be adopted without endorsement that the people might have statehood, a boon so devoutly wished for by the territory on the east. They presented Chairman Hamon's plan of pointing out the objectionable features and pledging the first legislature, which they hoped to elect by an appeal to general party fairness, for a correction as rapidly as possible.

This idea received little encouragement but instead there was a rapid revival of the Oklahoma's dream of an enabling act for themselves with the privilege of taking Indian Territory in piecemeal, as it became fit for state government. The party's position will not be fully determined until the state convention is held following adjournment of the constitutional convention.

A. J. Seay of Kingfisher, former governor of Oklahoma Territory and always an ardent advocate of separate statehood talked for a strict party discipline of the document and a campaign that would encompass its defeat at the polls. Added to this feeling was that of wild resentment to the original attachment of Indian Territory to Oklahoma and the loss of the latter in the trade. If the constitution was adopted he saw a loss of the Republican party's birthright and its inability to get representatives in office.

Judge J. T. Dickinson of the federal court in the Chickasha district came forward with a strong defense for the Indian Territory people who had suffered, Oklahoma knew not how much, for the want of home government, and pleaded that the opportunity be not now denied them.

"It will take the combined effort of both parties to pull it through," he continued. "If you could see our children without schools, rivers without bridges; no way to care for the afflicted or the insane, you would swallow anything to get statehood. We taught the Democrats a lesson in gerrymandering ourselves not long ago (referring to the apportionment for convention delegates) and the result should not be held as a barrier to relieving our conditions. You joined hands with us and you must go down with us. Let us meet the Democracy in the open field of argument and rest the case with the people."

BOY MANGLED BY FRISCO FREIGHT TRAIN

Carl Robb, a lad of fourteen, fell under the wheels of a passing freight train Tuesday night about 8 o'clock and was horribly mangled.

While standing by the track near the Frisco crossing on Townsend Avenue he was jostled by a playmate and thrown under the moving wheels, which crushed off the flesh from his left thigh, crushing the limb in two above the ankle. Such was the laceration that it was necessary to amputate midway the thigh. Also the left forearm was badly crushed, but the surgeons are making effort to save that limb. A number of abrasions were found on the head, but none of a serious character.

The little fellow never lost consciousness and altogether bore the ordeal right bravely. Help soon came and he was carried upon a litter to the offices of Browall and Faust.

The injured boy is the son of D. R. Robb, a teamster in the city.

Carl is the boy of pleasing face who formerly shined shoes at Chapman's Shoe Store. His parents reside in North Ada.

From best information he must have made an effort to swing on to the caboose which has a side entrance, and his left foot missing the step, he was dragged under the rear trucks. When first found his head lay close to the rail.

The boy stood the operation splendidly was soon after taken home but at last reports was getting on quite well considering the frightful injury he suffered.

SWELTERING WEATHER IN ADA ONCE MORE

That the good old summer time has arrived in Ada once more is evidenced in several ways.

Governor Byrd is out with his Panama hat. That is not conclusive of course, but lots of men are to be seen in their shirt sleeves, and some pause on the curb and with the index finger rake the perspiration from the brow. Even there are those horrible dieters, who dare to spring the hackneyed query "Is it hot enough for you?"

Also the white waist is uniformly in evidence, and the dogs, panting with protruding tongue seek the shade.

As incidents of the warm day, a fat drummer was observed emerging from himself with his hat. Blazes! he puffed. "I've been in that oven of a booth a whole hour trying to talk to Denison."

Ice from the Ada factory consigned to Francis to the amount of 1,200 pounds, lay on the trucks waiting for the northbound Frisco and leaked itself away. The train was terribly tardy. When it did arrive the expressman pitched the cakes, which had been 200 pounds, into the car without any hooks. What the Francis man said when he received his little nuggets of ice and the bill for $3 express charges is left to the reader's surmise.

WOMAN HELD WITHOUT BAIL

The preliminary hearing of Mrs. Mary E. Brooks was concluded Wednesday at noon and she was held without bail to await the action of the grand jury in April.

U. S. Commissioner Winn in rendering his decision admitted the incriminating evidence against the woman was very meager, not such as would convict her on trial before a jury, but considering the atrociousness of the crime and the fact that ample incriminating evidence is not required to hold an accused person over to the grand jury, he felt it his imperative duty to take such action in this case.

Defendant's attorneys will probably apply for a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Dickerson at Chickasha.

The fourth witness called Tuesday afternoon was W. P. Chism of Francis, who testified that he viewed the body of deceased Dr. Davenport among the first that he and numerous trucks pulled among them those of two men leaving with the body. He also testified that he saw a man in a suit and bow tie, who he believed to be the doctor, standing near the body of the deceased.

W. R. Wall of Francis testified that he saw the body of the deceased Dr. Davenport among the first that he and numerous trucks pulled among them those of two men leaving with the body.

W. O. Fox of Francis testified that he saw the body of the deceased Dr. Davenport among the first that he and numerous trucks pulled among them those of two men leaving with the body.

Deputy U. S. Marshal R. M. Carrington testified that he saw the body of the deceased Dr. Davenport among the first that he and numerous trucks pulled among them those of two men leaving with the body.

Wiley Smith testified that he saw the body of the deceased Dr. Davenport among the first that he and numerous trucks pulled among them those of two men leaving with the body.

Dr. King of Ada—Examined body extracted bullet which entered two inches behind ear deceased wore overcoat and gloves buttoned powder burned hair showed shot was fired at close range, thought killing must have been about 12 or 10 clock.

Frank Fox of Oakman—Said deceased had bought supplies from him saying they were for defendant deceased told of frequent quarrels with defendant.

The defense put on only two witnesses: Burrill Briley and Walter Owens.

Briley—Said deceased had spoken of enemies had told of being pursued by a man in the dark at Francis two weeks ago.

Owens—Deceased two or three weeks ago in witness state at Ada was being attacked and killed by a man who he believed to be the doctor.

For County Commissioner

That I vote for county will need some other first men on the board county commissioners to the faithful citizen will know.

Especially during the first two years will sound sugar is men be wanted to manage the county affairs. For that vitally important office the New is authorized to announce John B. Stewart.

A few months ago Mr. Stewart moved to Ada from a place four miles west where he resided twelve years.

Which was a man by his parents thirty-two years ago moved to the Territory. Though born in Louisiana

he is a citizen by blood, being one-eighth Choctaw. Mr. Stewart has grown up in close touch with the Indian country, conversant with its affairs, and in full sympathy with its well being. He belongs to the progressive type of citizen, standing for the progress that is safe and sane and sound.

In his earlier days Mr. Stewart lived the cowboy life for twenty years he has engaged in farming and stock raising. Knowing nearly everybody in this country knowing what the country needs, thoroughly imbued with the principles of the democratic party. Mr. Stewart should prove a favorite in the race for the democratic nomination in the commissioner's district which will include Ada.

Annette the Castilian dancing girl in Gordon & Bennett's production of "A Royal Slave" which comes to the Ada opera house March 23 wears a different costume in each act and each is a splendid piece of spangles in harmonious color and keeping with the body of the gown. The effect on the brilliantly lighted stage is truly magnificent.

None but animals in perfect health and life notion will ever be handled or slaughtered by us.

If we succeed in securing control of the pasture it will be free of access to vehicles passing to or from Indian Territory.

RODDIE'S PRINCIPLES.

Candidate for State Senate Tells the People What he Stands For.

To the Voters of the Twenty third Senatorial District

First of all, I stand for those principles of democracy that were conceived by Jefferson, promulgated by Jackson, and interpreted by the great commoner William Jennings Bryan as the surest means of returning the government of this nation back into the hands of the people.

Secondly, I heartily endorse every paragraph and every line of the new state constitution as wrought out by the late convention. I endorse it because I regard it as an embodiment of fundamental law without a parallel in the history of governments. It recognizes local self government and secures to the people the right of the people to rule.

Furthermore, I stand for the selection of Hon. Henry M. Furman as one of the candidates for United States senate in the coming primary election and shall use every effort in my power to further his interests and bring about his election.

FREE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Inseparable to the high standard of family life and interwoven with it is the free public school system of the state. Today the greatest menace to public school education is the school-book trust. Therefore if elected I shall introduce a bill to establish a state printing plant and provide for a commission to compile a uniform system of text books to be used in the public schools of the state at a price not exceeding six percent above actual cost of production.

GOOD ROADS

Next in importance to that of the education of the children of the state and which so immediately affects the agricultural department of wealth production is the local transportation—GOOD ROADS. I shall propose a law for the construction of roads of the first, second and third grades, according to importance and use by direct taxation the use of county convict labor in road building and if necessary utilize the short term labor of the state convicts.

TAXATION

I shall introduce a bill providing for the taxation of the gross receipts of all public service corporations, coal mining and oil companies not operated by the state from which sources the state will be enabled to raise a vast amount of revenue.

INSURANCE

The great central southwest has been a rich field for insurance companies of all classes. Oklahoma has received her share of the impositions practiced by the wild cat companies that are abroad in the land of both life and fire insurance. It is therefore necessary that the state be protected by some strong legislation along this line. I shall propose a bill and labor assiduously for its passage that will secure to every policy holder a valued policy of protection for every dollar of premium paid.

PRIMARY ELECTIONS

I shall follow the instructions of the constitutional convention by laboring for a blanket primary election law at which all parties may vote on the same day to select candidates for all offices from United States senator down. This law must be written that every man will get his vote counted as cast and in this way bring the elections close to the people.

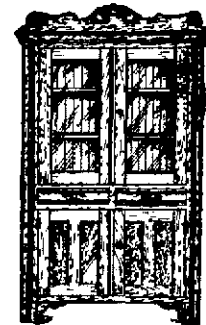

The above are some of the leading subjects that stand out most prominently for the action of the first legislature of our new state. If I am the choice of the people at the coming primary for the standard bearer of democracy in the state's senatorial campaign and elected at the general election it will be my only business to serve the people by putting good will into every effort in framing a code of laws for the government of the new state based on the provisions of our great constitution, wisdom, prudence and justice should actuate and be the controlling passion of every legislator.

To set forth a complete list of measures that I hold as most sacred to the interests of this great commonwealth would extend this paper beyond reasonable limit. But it will be my pleasure, as far as my limited means will allow, to meet the electors of this senatorial district personally, and to address them from the stump at as many places in the district as is possible.

As to my integrity and qualifications the people are capable of judging them, knowing that good government depends

A small cash payment, a small payment every week or every two weeks, just to suit your pay day, and soon your home will be made happy by the comfort, convenience and beauty of new furnishings.

A Kitchen Cabinet is a great convenience and saves many a step and much labor. There is a place for 10 pounds of flour for meal, sugar, spices, etc., all right at hand. Price, Base and Top $12.50 $2.50 down and $2.00 per week or sold separately Base $6.50 Top $6.00 with payments reduced one-half.

upon the selection of good and true men to represent them. With that safety-valve of democratic legislation—the initiative and referendum—the people can trust the future to give us a good government of the people and by the people without the intervention of that political machine which so often defeats their will under the very forms devised to carry that will into effect.

Above all let us have such a code of laws that will build up a virtuous citizenship. Let us build school houses and foster religion and education as the great pillars of the state. Oklahoma is a goodly land of beautiful mountains and fertile valleys. Here the steps of multitudes are turning as to a land that flows with milk and honey. Let such a moral sentiment pervade the character of all legislation that we shall be famed afar for the justice of our laws no less than for the uprightness and intelligence of our people. Soon the center of population will be this side of the Mississippi river the millions that are coming here now that statehood has come and restrictions will soon be removed that by a system of judicious legislation giving equal rights to all and special privileges to none we can make the great state of Oklahoma that center.

Respectfully

REUBEN M. RODDIE

HE WORKED HIS SCIENCE

New Method Employed by Satisfied and Comfortable Husband

It is the wife who is the head of the household at Ada. It was she who decided upon the first—and repeated immediately afterward. The building was a new one—scarcely finished and after the parlor ceiling had fallen twice and the repair man had botched a dozen small jobs she decided to move again. In this she met the lively opposition of the family. They were all content with their rooms and the children begged for a delay. The husband took the matter with calmness and did not enter into the argument after expressing his entire contentment with the present conditions.

The wife worried and went flat hunting but at last she announced that she had come to the conclusion that they would remain. The husband looked up placidly from his coffee cup. I knew that several weeks ago.

But I only decided this morning," she retorted in surprise.

He smiled pitifully. Down at the church he explained we have been giving you absent treatment for five weeks. After this you need not say that there is nothing in science. Then he dodged the sugar bowl.

Much Used Wedding Present.

A Providence girl who has been married about six months had wedding cards a short time ago from an old school friend who had given her a wedding present which of course demanded one in return. Among her wedding presents the Providence girl had selected in the shape of two silver card trays and in a spirit of economy she tried to give one of these to her friend. It was marked with her own initials but it would be only a matter of a few minutes to have them removed and the proper monogram cut.

She took it to the jeweler and explained what was to be done. He picked up the tray looked at it closely and smiled.

Madame said he it will be impossible. I have already changed the initials on this same tray five times and it has worn so thin that I can not do it again without cutting through the bottom.

Had Good Eyesight

A young man from the rural districts went to Boston and while there visited the Harvard astronomical observatory and was allowed to look through a great telescope at the stars.

What is that star? he inquired pointing to a very bright one.

Oh that's Aldebaran replied the attendant.

Is it very far off? asked the youth.

About 10,000,000 miles.

Then all I can say said the visitor is that you must have wonderfully good eyes to make out that star's name at that distance even with that big telescope. It's really most marvelous.

The Sneerer and His Sneer

The sneer is an arrested bite. It is a mark of the savage. The man who sneers is that much less of a gentleman. The sneerer would bite if he was not afraid to do so. He is a coward. The sneerer is a savage whether he sneers in print or not. If he writes down his sneers he has not removed himself from the ranks of savagery. He yet remains one of the worst savages however his English be polished and his style be sparkling. The sneer does turn into a bite when even the savage who indulges in it acquires courage. While he is a coward it remains an arrested bite—Columbia Herald.
